PRELIMINARY STATEMENT

This memorandum of law is submitted in support of the defendants' BRONX LEBANON HOSPITAL CENTER, ANDREAS EVDOKAS, & RAYMOND ESTEVES' (collectively, the "Hospital") Rule 12(b)(6) motion to dismiss plaintiff's complaint in its entirety.

Plaintiff attempts to claim that the Hospital's decision to fire her and three other employees for unauthorized long distance telephone calls constitutes employment discrimination. Plaintiff is wrong. Dismissal is warranted at this juncture because plaintiff's complaint fails to meet even the most minimal pleading requirements of a discrimination claim, and her allegations are directly rebutted by her pleading admissions and the documentary evidence incorporated by reference into her complaint. (Annexed hereto as Exhibit "A" is a copy of plaintiff's complaint and as Exhibit "B" are the documents incorporated therein, plaintiff's Equal Employment Opportunity Commission Charge, the Hospital's position statement in response thereto, and the EEOC's determination finding no statutory violations).

The EEOC has already dismissed this claim on its merits. The plaintiff, along with three other employees, were terminated for clear misconduct; i.e., plaintiff incurred over $3,000.00 in unauthorized long distance charges in direct violation of the Hospital's telephone policy. It is respectfully submitted that plaintiff's seven causes of action alleging: race and color discrimination under Title VII (Count I); age discrimination under the Age Discrimination in Employment Act ("ADEA") (Count II); hostile work environment under Title VII (Count III); violation of 42 U.S.C. § 1983 and plaintiff's constitutional and statutory rights (Count IV); sex discrimination under Title VII (Count

V); color and race discrimination under § 1981 (Count VI); and, racially hostile work environment under § 1981 (Count VII) are deficient and should be dismissed at this juncture because:

1. plaintiff's Title VII and ADEA discrimination claims arising before December 21, 2005 are time barred;
2. plaintiff's wrongful termination claim is precluded by her pleading admissions and pleading deficiencies;
3. plaintiff's non-termination claims are insufficient as a matter of law; and,
4. plaintiff cannot plead a viable constitutional or § 1983 claim because none of the defendants are state actors.

STANDARD OF REVIEW

In judging the legal sufficiency of a complaint against a Rule 12(b)(6) challenge, although the Court must accept all bona fide factual allegations in the complaint as true, it need not accept the complaint's legal conclusions and unwarranted factual contentions. Cohen v. Litt, 906 F. Supp. 957, 961 (S.D.N.Y. 1995); Cohen v. Koenig, 25 F.3d 1168, 1171-72 (2d Cir. 1994); Haghpasand v. Reuters Consulting Group, 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 4799, at *1-2 (S.D.N.Y. Mar. 24, 2004), aff'd 120 Fed. Appx. 859 (2d Cir. Jan. 28, 2005); Cortec Industries v. Sum Holding, L.P., 949 F.2d 42, 48 (2d Cir. 1991) (complaint should be dismissed pre-answer where insufficient facts are alleged to support a claim).

The New York Courts have made it clear that "consistent with Second Circuit precedent in Swierkiewicz, a plaintiff alleging employment discrimination must offer some facts in the complaint to support [her] claim." Thomas-Charlton v. The Brookdale University Hospital and Medical Center, 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 29544 (E.D.N.Y. Nov. 12, 2004); Swierkiewicz v. Sorema, N.A., 534 U.S. 506, 122 S. Ct. 992 (2002); Wynder

v. McMahon, 360 F.3d 73, 80 (2d. Cir. 2004); York v. Ass'n of the Bar of the City of New York, 286 F.3d 122, 125 (2d Cir. 2002) (in Title VII case, "[t]o survive a motion to dismiss...the complaint must allege facts which, assumed to be true, confer a judicially cognizable right of action"). As the Thomas-Charlton Court held, "there is a distinction to be drawn between 'fair notice of what the plaintiff's claim is' and 'the grounds upon which it rests'; conclusory allegations cannot satisfy the latter." Thomas-Charlton, 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 29544, at * 6 (citing Straker v. Metropolitan Transit Auth., 333 F. Supp. 2d 91 (E.D.N.Y. 2005) (quoting Swierkiewicz, 534 U.S. at 512)).

Here, plaintiff has failed to specifically identify how any similarly situated male, younger, or non-black employees were treated differently than she was. This failure is fatal to her claim. Plaintiff has failed to set forth any factual allegations showing that any actions taken by the Hospital were because of her race, color, age, or sex. Plaintiff's utterly conclusory allegation that her termination (for incurring over $3000 in unauthorized long distance calls) was discriminatory simply because her race, color, age, or sex is different from her supervisors' is clearly insufficient under the standard articulated by the Supreme Court in Swierkiewicz. See, e.g., George v. New York City Health and Hosp. Corp., 2003 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 1927, at *6 (S.D.N.Y. Feb. 11, 2003) reconsideration den'd, 2003 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 9817 (S.D.N.Y. June 11, 2003) (pre-answer motion to dismiss granted - mere fact that plaintiff and supervisor were of different race, color, and national origin does not in itself indicate conduct motivated by discrimination); Valle v. Bally Total Fitness, 2003 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 17093 (S.D.N.Y. Sept. 30, 2003) (pre-answer dismissal of complaint which contained no factual allegations indicating how employee's race, gender, age or national origin played role in decision to terminate); Marshall v. National Assoc. of Letter Carriers, 2003 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 19918 (S.D.N.Y. Nov. 7, 2003) (employee failed to state race discrimination claim even though he described defendant's actions, because he failed to draw a connection between his disciplinary suspension and his race); Whyte v. Contemporary Guidance Services, 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 12447 (S.D.N.Y. June 30, 2004) (pre-answer dismissal of race, age and national origin discrimination claims where plaintiff merely alleged that white, younger employees received raises and promotions).

ARGUMENT

PLAINTIFF'S TITLE VII & ADEA CLAIMS ARISING BEFORE DECEMBER 21, 2005 ARE TIME BARRED

It is respectfully submitted that plaintiff's October 16, 2006 EEOC filing date renders any claims premised on acts which occurred prior to December 21, 2005 untimely under Title VII and the ADEA. The only pled allegations that are not time-barred are plaintiff's claim that her May 2006 termination was improper, and her allegations regarding: the alleged elimination of acupuncture and free breakfast services for patients in April 2006; Mr. Esteves' alleged refusal to say hello to plaintiff in February 2006 and refusal to acknowledge her at a March 2006 meeting; Mr. Esteves' alleged increased monitoring of her whereabouts between March through May 2006; the alleged unrealistic timeframe given to close inactive files in April 2006; and, plaintiff's hearsay claim that defendant Esteves referred to her as a "black ass" to another employee in April 2006.

Dismissal of all of plaintiff's pre December 21, 2005 claims (her allegations of:

harassment to fabricate a justification for computers purchased with grant money in February 2005; harsh, threatening and condescending tones directed at her during meetings throughout 2005; monitoring of her whereabouts, "abusive tirade", and threats to transfer her in September 2005; and, the reference to her as a "black ass" and being stripped of hiring and firing responsibilities in October 2005) is required at this juncture as time-barred. See, Exhibit "A", plaintiff's complaint, ¶¶ 27, 33-40, 42-43; Tewksbury v. Ottaway Newspapers, Inc., 192 F.3d 322, 328-29 (2d Cir. 1999); 42 U.S.C. § 2000e-5(e) (1) (2000); Gueye v. Air Afrique, 917 F.Supp. 1024 (S.D.N.Y. 1996) ("complainant seeking relief under Title VII . . . must file a complaint with the EEOC within 300 days of the alleged discriminatory act"); Zerilli-Edelglass v. N.Y. City Transit Auth., 333 F.3d 74 (2d Cir. 2003) (same); see also National Railroad Passenger Corp. v. Morgan, 536 U.S. 101 (2002); Elmennayer v. ABF Freight Sys., 318 F.3d 130, 133-134 (2d Cir. 2003). Failure to timely file a charge with the EEOC bars any subsequent civil action. Ledbetter v. Goodyear Tire & Rubber Co., 127 S.Ct. 2162 (U.S. 2007); Mei-Lin Chen v. N.Y. City Transit Auth., 2003 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 16016 (E.D.N.Y. Sept. 15, 2003) (dismissing Title VII claims for failure to timely file EEOC Charge within 300 days); Contes v. City of New York, 1999 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 10634 (S.D.N.Y. July 13, 1999); Figueroa v. The City of New York, Dep't of Sanitation, 198 F. Supp. 2d 555, 562 (S.D.N.Y. 2002), quoting Briones v. Runyon, 101 F. 3d 287, 290 (2d Cir. 1996).

For the foregoing reasons, it is respectfully requested that the Court dismiss as time barred all of plaintiff's pre-December 21, 2005 Title VII and ADEA claims identified in Counts I, II, III, and V of her complaint as outlined in paragraphs 20, 27, 33-40, 42-43 of her complaint.

POINT IIPLAINTIFF'S DISCRIMINATION CLAIMS FAIL
BECAUSE HER CONCLUSORY ALLEGATIONS ARE INSUFFICIENT TO STATE A LEGALLY COGNIZABLE CLAIM

Plaintiff has failed to identify any qualifying discriminatory act under either Title VII, the ADEA, or § 1981, and her first, second, third, fifth, sixth and seventh causes of action should be dismissed now.¹ Plaintiff's wrongful termination claim must be dismissed because the plaintiff has failed to identify any similarly situated employee who was treated differently than her. Plaintiff's remaining claims must be dismissed because they are clearly deficient as a matter of law; she has failed to identify how she was discriminated against because of her race, color, age, or her gender. It is respectfully submitted that plaintiff's vague and conclusory allegations are simply insufficient as a matter of law. Chan v. NYU Downtown Hospital, 2005 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 40243 (S.D.N.Y. Feb. 14, 2006) (conclusory allegations of disparate treatment are insufficient to state a claim); Carey v. Reed Elsevier, Inc., 1998 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 6834, at 14 (S.D.N.Y. 1998) (isolated, hearsay comments are insufficient to prove discrimination).

A. Plaintiff's Wrongful Termination Claim Is Precluded
By Her Pleading Admissions And Pleading Deficiencies

Plaintiff's wrongful discharge allegations are insufficient because she has failed to identify any similarly situated employee who committed the same infraction who was treated any differently than her. Plaintiff has conceded that she was hired, promoted and given salary increases while in the protected age, race and sex categories. Further, plaintiff has not disputed: the unauthorized telephone usage² from her telephone extension nor the cost to the Hospital; that three other employees were terminated for the same infraction, two of whom were male, and two in their thirties; that the Director of Labor Relations, Jasen Nhambiu, who investigated and approved the decision to terminate plaintiff's employment was the same race as she; that plaintiff's supervisors, the two named defendants herein, are both over forty; and, that following her termination, plaintiff's duties were assumed by a white female and a black male. (See Exhibit "A", plaintiff's complaint, ¶¶ 4, 5, 6, 16; Exhibit "B", plaintiff's EEOC Charge and the Hospital's position statement in response thereto).

Plaintiff's pleading concessions and the incorporated documentary evidence establishes that the Hospital had a legitimate, nondiscriminatory business reason to terminate plaintiff's employment, i.e., plaintiff's unauthorized long distance telephone calls. Plaintiff and three other employees were terminated after the Hospital investigated and confirmed that these four employees had violated Hospital policy by using the Hospital's phones for long distance personal telephone calls. This policy violation was only discovered after the Hospital installed a new telephone system which tracked and accounted for telephone calls. The new tracking system revealed that nearly $6,000.00 in calls were placed from plaintiff's extension over a two month time period, of which more than $3,000.00 were long distance calls placed mostly to Nevis and St. Kitts, plaintiff's home country. (See Exhibit "B", Hospital's position statement, copy of Hospital's telephone policy and telephone logs annexed thereto as Exhibits "A" and "F" respectively). Plaintiff was not disciplined more severely than any younger, male, or non-black employees and her failure to identify any such employee reinforces this fact.

Plaintiff's failure to identify any similarly situated male, white, or younger employees who committed the same infraction and were allegedly treated differently to her is fatal to her termination claim. Shumway v. UPS, 118 F.3d 60 (2d Cir. 1997) (failure to allege facts sufficient to prove that similarly situated employees were treated differently was fatal to plaintiff's claim); Rowe Entmt, Inc. v. William Morris Agency, Inc., 2005 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 75 (S.D.N.Y. Jan. 4, 2005) (same); Allen v. St. Cabrini Nursing Home, Inc., 198 F. Supp. 2d 442 (S.D.N.Y. 2002) (failure to identify similarly situated employee who was treated differently prevents plaintiff from relying on the comparison of her situation to that of any other employee); Walter v. Westdeutscher Rundfunk, 2004 WL 1052776 (S.D.N.Y. 2004) (dismissal granted where conclusory allegations of disparate treatment did not give "fair notice" of claim).

Plaintiff's complaint fails to allege any act that gives rise to an inference of discrimination nor could one exist given the Hospital's undisputed employee statistics. At plaintiff's termination, approximately 88.7% of the Hospital's employee population was non-white, approximately 64.6% were female, and approximately 60.3% were within the protected age group. The Hospital's CEO is Hispanic, its Chief Medical Officer is black, and both were well over the age of forty. The Clinical Advisor of the program where plaintiff was employed, Dr. Osei-Tutu, is black and over forty; plaintiff's former supervisors, Raymond Esteves and Andreas Evdokas, are both over 40; and, Jason Nhambiu, the Director of Labor Relations who approved the decision to terminate plaintiff, is black. See, Exhibit "B", Hospital's position statement; Noyer v. Viacom, Inc., 1998 WL 774606, *6 (S.D.N.Y. 1998), citing Morrissey v. Symbol Technologies, Inc., 910 F. Supp. 117, 121 (E.D.N.Y. 1996) ("[A]n overall employee composition and record of non-discrimination strongly negates any claim of a climate of discrimination"); Mathurin v. Consilvio, 2002 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 26441, 8-9 (S.D.N.Y. Nov. 25, 2002); Carr v. WestLB, 171 F.Supp.2d 302, at *307 (S.D.N.Y. 2001) (fact that 50% of co-workers were over 40 evidence of lack of discrimination).

B. Plaintiff's Non-Termination Claims Are Insufficient As a Matter of Law

Plaintiff's allegations of isolated comments are insufficient to state a discrimination claim and should be dismissed at this preliminary juncture. Ortega v. New York City Off-Track Betting Corp., 1999 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 7948 (S.D.N.Y. May 24, 1999) (pre-answer dismissal granted where complaint failed to specify how statements and/or actions were motivated by, or give rise to an inference of discrimination based on protected category); Santos v. Costco Wholesale, Inc., 271 F. Supp. 2d 565, 574 (S.D.N.Y. 2003) (dismissal granted where no factual allegations linked remarks to decisions regarding promotion and termination); Prince v. Cablevision Systems Corporation, 2005 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 8147 (S.D.N.Y. May 6, 2005) (pre-answer dismissal granted because allegation of a single incident is insufficient); Cicotto v. LCOR, 2001 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 1125 (S.D.N.Y. Jan. 31, 2001) (Title VII is not a general civility code, it requires more than simple teasing, offhand comments and isolated incidents).

Not only are plaintiff's allegations of isolated events insufficient, but plaintiff has also failed to plead any facts to even suggest that the Hospital's alleged actions were motivated by discriminatory animus or ill will. Plaintiff's pleadings are simply insufficient as a matter of law. Stern v. Columbia Univ., 131 F.3d 305, 312 (2d Cir. 1997); Pagan v. New York State Division of Parole, 2001 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 2629 (S.D.N.Y. Mar. 13, 2001) (pre-answer dismissal granted where complaint had no factual allegation to support inference that termination was based on impermissible racial motives); Lediju v. New York City Dep't of Sanitation, 173 F.R.D. 105, 114 (S.D.N.Y. 1997) (plaintiff's speculations, generalities, and gut feelings, however genuine, when not supported by specific facts, do not allow for an inference of discrimination to be drawn); Jenkins v. NYDOCS, 2002 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 1997 (S.D.N.Y. Feb. 8, 2002) (pre-answer dismissal where no allegations that employment actions occurred under circumstances giving rise to an inference of discrimination); Johnson v. The Reuben H. Donnelly Corp., 1997 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 13972 (S.D.N.Y. Sept. 16, 1997) (mere fact that employee is member of protected class is insufficient to sustain a lawsuit); Wynder v. McMahon, 360 F.3d 73, 80 (2d Cir. 2004) (motions to dismiss would lie to permit each defendant to dismiss causes of action as to which no set of facts are identified to support a claim against him).

Plaintiff's claims of racial discrimination are patently insufficient. Plaintiff attempts to premise her non-termination claims on allegations that defendant Esteves allegedly referred to her as a "black ass" and allegedly used harsh tones to her in 2005. These allegations simply do not rise to the level of an actionable adverse employment action. See, Exhibit "A", plaintiff's complaint, ¶¶ 20, 33, 37, 39, 43, 49; Katz v. Beth Israel Med. Ctr., 2001 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 29 (S.D.N.Y. 2001)) (being yelled at, receiving unfair criticism or unfavorable schedules or work assignments do not rise to the level of adverse employment action); Meritor Sav. Bank, FSB v. Vinson, 477 U.S. 57 (1986) ("mere utterance of an . . . epithet [does] not . . . violate Title VII"); Thomas v. N.Y. City Health & Hosps. Corp., 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 17694 (S.D.N.Y. Sept. 2, 2004) (stray epithets, such as being called a "black bitch", are insufficient to support a discrimination claim); Khan v. Abercrombie & Fitch Inc., 2003 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 16329 (S.D.N.Y. Sept. 17, 2003) (same); Pagan v. New York State Division of Parole, 2001 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 2629 (S.D.N.Y. Mar. 13, 2001) (pre-answer dismissal granted because one racist comment that plaintiff was "a fat Puerto Rican" is insufficient); Flynn v. Goldman Sachs & Co., 836 F. Supp. 152 (S.D.N.Y. 1993) (dismissing claim where plaintiff alleged she was called a "treacherous bitch").

Plaintiff's age and sex discrimination claims are similarly deficient. Plaintiff has failed to allege even a single age or gender related act or comment was ever directed towards her at any time during her entire employment tenure at the Hospital. (See, Exhibit "A", plaintiff's complaint, particularly ¶¶, 50-51). Plaintiff's allegations are not only clearly insufficient but they are also directly refuted by the documents plaintiff incorporated by reference and her pleading admissions; plaintiff was hired and promoted while she was in the protected age and gender categories. Plaintiff's pleading admissions directly negate any inference of discrimination. See, Exhibit "A", plaintiff's complaint, ¶¶ 4, 5, 6, 16; Exhibit "B", Hospital's position statement with plaintiff's relevant salary history annexed thereto as Exhibit "C"; Speigler v. Israel Discount Bank of N.Y., 2003 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 10854, at *31-32 (S.D.N.Y., June 24, 2003) (fact that plaintiff was in protected age category when hired contradicted inference of discrimination); Byrne v. CNA Ins. Cos., 2001 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 12975, at *26 (N.D.N.Y., Aug. 29, 2001) (willingness to hire plaintiff when in protected age category and promote him twice thereafter "creates strong presumption against age discrimination"). Hauptman v. Concord Fabrics, Inc., 1999 WL 527970, at * 7 (S.D.N.Y., July 22, 1999), aff'd, 210 F.3d 354 (2^d Cir. 2000) (supervisor member of ADEA class evidence of lack of discriminatory intent); Goodman v. New York Off-Track Betting Corporation, 1999 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 6291 (S.D.N.Y. Apr. 30, 1999) (pre-answer dismissal granted where no pled facts suggested that employer's actions had anything to do with plaintiff's gender).

Plaintiff's attempt to allege a hostile work environment claim also fails. Plaintiff's third and seventh causes of action attempt to plead a hostile work environment claim by alleging, inter alia, that her responsibility decreased, her supervisor was not friendly toward her, she was given a difficult deadline, and, her supervisor allegedly made a racially derogatory comment to and about her twice, once in October 2005 and once in April 2006. These allegations, of which there are only two alleged isolated hearsay incidents of race based comments, are clearly insufficient to constitute the severe and pervasive conduct necessary to rise to an actionable hostile work claim. To state a hostile work environment, a plaintiff must plead facts sufficient to show: "conduct (1) that is 'objectively' severe or pervasive-that . . . creates an environment that a reasonable person would find hostile or abusive . . ." Gregory v. Daly, 243 F.3d 687, 691 (2d Cir. 2001).

Not only is plaintiff's hostile work environment claim time-barred, but even if her allegations were timely and were all accepted as true for purposes of this motion, they are insufficient to establish a hostile work environment claim as a matter of law. Isolated incidents of discriminatory comments or conduct are simply not sufficient to establish a hostile work environment. Brightman v. Prison Health Service, Inc., 2007 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 23724 (E.D.N.Y. Mar. 30, 2007) (pre-answer dismissal granted because a few incidents occurring over a four year period were not severe or pervasive enough to provide a basis for relief); Harris v. Forklift Sys., Inc., 510 U.S. 17, 20, 114 S. Ct. 367, 370 (1993). ("Mere utterance of an . . . epithet which engenders offensive feelings in an employee . . . does not sufficiently affect the conditions of employment to implicate Title VII."); Kotcher v. Rosa and Sullivan Appliance Center, Inc., 957 F.2d 59 (2d Cir. 1992) (incidents must be repeated and continuous; isolated acts or occasional episodes will not merit relief); Legnani v. Alitalia Linee Aeree Italiane, 1997 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 16151 (S.D.N.Y. Oct. 14, 1997) (four to five instances of disputed behavior over a two month period did not establish pervasiveness). In fact, the Supreme Court specifically held that ordinary workplace tribulations such as abusive language are not enough to satisfy the hostile work environment standard. See Faragher v. City of Boca Raton, 524 U.S. 775, 118 S. Ct. 2275 (1998).³

³ Plaintiff's hostile work environment allegation is also undermined by her failure to utilize the Hospital's comprehensive anti-discrimination and harassment policy at anytime during her employment tenure. The only pre-termination internal complaint plaintiff ever made about either of her two supervisors, which is referenced in her complaint, had nothing to do with harassment but rather concerned her supervisor's management style; on October 18, 2005, plaintiff wrote a memo complaining about Mr. Esteves' September 2005 denial of her request to go to Mexico on "business" and about her disagreement with him regarding the best use of grant funds, i.e., Mr. Esteves chose to purchase computers for departmental employees and grant participants. See, Exhibit "A", plaintiff's complaint, ¶ 42; Exhibit "B", Hospital's position statement and copy of plaintiff's complaint memo annexed thereto as Exhibit "D". Bryant v. Begin Manage Program, 281 F. Supp. 2d 561, 573 (E.D.N.Y. 2003) (no inference of discrimination where plaintiff's first complaint of discrimination was not until after she discovered she was being terminated); Luxenberg v. Guardian Life Ins. Co., 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 3121 *17-18 (S.D.N.Y. Mar. 2, 2004) (no inference of discrimination where adverse employment action began before plaintiff filed a complaint of discrimination, even where plaintiff was subsequently terminated).

Accordingly, it is respectfully requested that plaintiff's discrimination claims, her first, second, fifth, and sixth causes of action, and her harassment claims, her third and seventh causes of action, be dismissed in their entirety.

POINT III

PLAINTIFF CANNOT PLEAD A VIABLE CONSTITUTIONAL OR § 1983 CLAIM BECAUSE NONE OF THE DEFENDANTS ARE STATE ACTORS

Plaintiff's attempt to proffer a claim under 42 USC § 1983 is insufficient as a matter of law and her fourth cause of action should be dismissed as a result. The sine qua non of a §1983 action is a violation of the Fourth or Fourteenth Amendment, which requires "state action"; private persons or entities cannot violate an individual's Fourth or Fourteenth Amendment rights. None of the defendants herein are state actors capable of abridging any of the plaintiff's constitutional or civil rights and therefore, plaintiff cannot establish the requisite element of a state action. Rendell-Baker v. Kohn, 457 U.S. 830, 73 L. Ed.2d 418, 102 S. Ct. 2764 (1982); Lugar v. Edmondson Oil Co., 457 U.S. 922, 73 L. Ed. 2d 484, 102 S.Ct. 2744 (1982; See also, Jane Doe v. Harrison, NYLJ (April 1, 2003). Flagg Bros. Inc. v. Brooks, 436 U.S. 149, 156-157, 56 L. Ed. 2d 185, 98 S. Ct. 1729 (1978).

Neither the Hospital nor the individually named defendants are state actors for the purposes of 42 U.S.C. §1983. Private hospitals, such as Bronx-Lebanon, as well as its employees, are not state actors capable of violating an individual's first and fourteenth Amendment Rights as a matter of well established law. Kia P. v. McIntyre, 235 F.3d 749, 756 (2d Cir. 2000)(indicating that if a hospital is "owned and administered by a private corporation, it is not the state or municipal facility"); Thomas v. Beth Israel

Hosp., Inc., 710 F. Supp. 935, 940 (S.D.N.Y. 1985) (private hospitals do not act under color of state law for §1983 purposes); Okunieff v. Rosenberg, 996 F. Supp. 343, 357 (S.D.N.Y. 1998) (indicating that defendant, a doctor in the hospital, could not be deemed a state actor since he is a private individual working for a private institution); Stork v. Suffolk County Department of Social Services, 62 F. Supp. 2d 927, 938 (E.D.N.Y. 1999) (§1983 excludes private conduct no matter how discriminatory or wrongful it is); Archer v. Economic Opportunity Commission of Nassau County, Inc., 30 F. Supp. 2d 600, 604 (E.D.N.Y. 1998) (finding that in order for private individuals to be liable for violations of §1983, the plaintiff must show that the actions complained of are attributable to the government). Indeed, there is no dispute over the private status of the Hospital or of the two individual defendants. (See Exhibit "A", Plaintiff's Complaint at ¶ 7). If there is no "state action" there is no basis for judicial intervention under §1983.

Plaintiff's allegation that the Hospital receives substantial state and federal funds is not sufficient to transform the Hospital or the individual defendants into state actors. Even if the defendants received some government funding, government funding of a private entity, no matter how extensive, is insufficient to transform otherwise private conduct into state action. Young, et al. v. Halle Housing Associates, et al., 2001 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 5820 (S.D.N.Y. 2001). Indeed, the United States Supreme Court has confirmed that a private entity's receipt of direct or significant funding is not a sufficient basis for a 42 U.S.C. §1983 claim. Blum v. Yaretsky, 457 U.S. 991, 1008, 73 L. Ed. 2d 534, 102 S.Ct. 2777 (1982).

CONCLUSION

For the foregoing reasons, it is respectfully requested that this Court grant defendants Rule 12(b) (6) motion to dismiss plaintiff's complaint in its entirety, and for such other and further relief that this Court deems proper.

PARTIES

4. Plaintiff, PEARLINE O. LIBURD (hereinafter "Plaintiff"), is a black woman with brown skin of African-Caribbean decent, a citizen of the United States over the age of 55 at the time of the adverse actions against her and she falls within the group protected by the ADEA and Title VII.
5. Plaintiff was born on April 12, 1947 and was 59 years of age when she was terminated.
6. Plaintiff began her employment as Administrative Director of the Hospital's Harm Reduction Program on October 24, 1994 and maintained this position until she was terminated on May 12, 2006 (approximately 12 years later).

7. Defendant, BRONX LEBANON HOSPITAL CENTER, located at 1276 Fulton Avenue Bronx, New York, is a not-for-profit health care system serving the South and Central Bronx organized under the laws of the State of New York and upon information and belief, at all material times alleged herein the hospital received substantial federal and state funds.
8. Defendant, BRONX LEBANON HOSPITAL CENTER is an employer within the meaning of the ADEA and Title VII and has been at all material times herein.
9. Defendant, ANDREAS EVDOKAS, a white male, (hereinafter "defendant Evdokas") is an Administrative Director in the Department of Psychiatry at the BRONX LEBANON HOSPITAL CENTER.
10. Defendant Evdokas treated Plaintiff discriminatorily because of her race, color, sex and age.
11. Defendant, RAYMOND ESTEVES, a white male of Hispanic origin, (hereinafter "defendant Esteves") is and was at all relevant times the Assistant Vice President of Clinical Services in the Department of Psychiatry of BRONX LEBANON HOSPITAL CENTER.
12. Defendant Esteves treated Plaintiff discriminatorily and harassed her because of her race, color, sex and age.
13. At all times material hereto, defendants Evdokas and Esteves acted within the scope of their employment as employees of defendant BRONX LEBANON HOSPITAL CENTER.

14. Defendants Evdokas and Esteves are being sued in their individual and official capacities.
15. Plaintiff filed a timely charge of discrimination with the EEOC and received a "right to sue letter" dated September 21, 2007 and brings this complaint within 90 days of receiving her "right to sue letter."

STATEMENT OF THE CLAIM

16. On or about October 24, 1994, Plaintiff began her employment as Administrative Director of the Hospital's Harm Reduction Program (hereinafter "HRP"). Plaintiff was hired specifically to develop and implement the then new federally funded program.
17. The HRP, under the auspices of the hospital's psychiatry department, is a federal grant funded program developed to provide counseling and education on harm reduction, recovery readiness, and HIV treatment options for substance abuse HIV patients.
18. Plaintiff secured funding for this program year after year and successfully managed the program throughout her tenure.
19. Plaintiff was efficient and effective in managing and operating the HRP, as a result, it was annually approved for renewal and funding.

20. Plaintiff's supervisors were defendants Evdokas and Esteves. Defendant Esteves was her direct supervisor from on or about May 1, 2002 until on or about December 9, 2005; then defendant Evdokas was assigned on or about December 2005 until her termination.
21. Plaintiff always performed her job duties and responsibilities at least satisfactorily.
22. Upon information and belief defendant Esteves had a pattern and practice of discriminating against females employees over the age of 40 and black employees.
23. Since defendant Esteves began supervising Plaintiff, he has treated Plaintiff differently and more severely than non-African American females under the age of 45 and white males.
24. As an example, but not the sole example of discriminatory treatment, defendant Esteves has unlawfully and unfairly criticized Plaintiff's performance, has subjected her to a hostile work environment and has denied her due process, equal protection under the laws and equal employment opportunities. All of this has been on-going activities.
25. As an example, but not the sole example of discriminatory treatment, upon information and belief, defendant Esteves conspired with defendant Evdokas and others to dismantle the HRP and thereby terminate Plaintiff's employment.

26. Upon information and belief, defendant Esteves conspired with others not to renew the grant that funds the HRP.
27. As an example, but not the sole example of discriminatory harassment, at a meeting, on or about February 2005, defendant Esteves harassed Plaintiff when he pressured her to fabricate a justification to the HRP's grant funding agency to justify his purchase of twelve (12) computers with HRP's grant money.
28. Upon information and belief, defendant Esteves knew that Plaintiff must provide an accounting to the funding agency for the HRP or its funding could be jeopardized.
29. Upon information and belief, defendant Esteves told Plaintiff that the monies should be justified with the implementation of a computer lab. To date, defendant Esteves has not established a computer lab.
30. Upon information and belief, defendant Esteves has not treated other similarly situated male employees like Plaintiff when he suggested that she fabricate a false justification for the computer purchase.
31. Upon information and belief, defendant Esteves has not treated other similarly situated non black employees like Plaintiff when he ordered her to fabricate a justification for the computer purchase.

32. Upon information and belief, defendant Evdokas knew that defendant Esteves harassed Plaintiff by asking her to fabricate the above-described justification.
33. As another example, but not the sole example of discriminatory treatment and harassment, at monthly departmental meetings throughout 2005, in the presence of 15 - 20 departmental managers, defendant Esteves treated Plaintiff differently by using harsh, sharp and condescending tones when addressing Plaintiff.
34. As another example, but not the sole example of discriminatory treatment, at a meeting, on or about September 13, 2005, defendant Esteves verbally abused Plaintiff because she requested to attend a conference that Plaintiff regularly attended in prior years that provides valuable information in her professional responsibility as Project Administrator/Director of HRP. Defendant Esteves stated that he would not pay for an international conference as his purported reason, even though this was a domestic conference that had already been funded. Defendant Evdokas was present at this meeting and acquiesced to this harassment.
35. On or about September 13, 2005, at this same meeting, and during defendant Esteves' abusive tirade toward Plaintiff, he threatened to transfer her from the program that she developed and managed for twelve years to another department in the hospital.

36. As evidence of his unlawful ill-will, Plaintiff heard defendant Esteves call her a "black ass" as he walked past her leaving defendant Evdokas' office. Prior to this ill-willed statement, on or about September 14, 2005, Plaintiff was standing outside of defendant Evdokas's office and she heard defendant Esteves say to defendant Evdokas, "I want her ass out of here. I want to get rid of her. I want her ass out of here."

37. As another example, but not the sole example of discriminatory treatment and harassment, on or about September 20, 2005, defendant Esteves damaged her reputation and adversely affected her ability to manage when he called employees of the HRP to monitor Plaintiff's whereabouts.

38. On or about September 13, 2005, as part of an on-going harassment campaign against plaintiff, defendant Esteves told Plaintiff that she would be transferred.

39. As another example, but not the sole example of discriminatory treatment and harassment, after nearly 12 years effectively managing HRP, on about October 12, 2005, defendant Esteves and defendant Evdokas, without justification, stripped Plaintiff of key executive responsibilities, specifically hiring and firing.

40. In order to avoid the on-going discriminatory harassment, in or about, October 2005, Plaintiff asked defendant Evdokas about the transfer from his department. Plaintiff was under extreme stress and wanted to escape the continued harassment by defendant Esteves.
41. Upon information and belief, defendant Evdokas did not transfer Plaintiff because he and defendant Esteves were conspiring to wrongfully terminate her employment.
42. On or about October 18, 2005, Plaintiff wrote a memorandum to Dr. Levine, Chairman of the Psychiatry Department, supervisor of both defendants Esteves and Evdokas, to complain about defendants Esteves and Evdokas' harassment. Upon information and belief, Dr. Levine acquiesced to the harassment by not intervening after he received the memorandum.
43. In another example of color, race, gender and age animus toward Plaintiff, defendant Esteves called Plaintiff a "black ass" this took place on or about October 21, 2005 between 12:00 noon and 1:00 p.m. when Plaintiff left a meeting held in the boardroom to obtain lunch to bring back to the meeting; defendant Esteves confronted Plaintiff in the hallway demanding to know where she was going and when told defendant Esteves replied "make sure you come right back."

44. Upon information and belief, defendant Esteves retaliated against Plaintiff for reporting him to Dr. Levine by creating a hostile environment through harassment; accusing Plaintiff of making unauthorized phone calls; conspiring to terminate her from her employment; and conspiring to dismantle the HRP program.
45. As another example, but not the sole example of discriminatory treatment and harassment defendant Esteves stopped speaking to Plaintiff on or about February 14, 2006. Plaintiff complained to defendant Evdokas that defendant Esteves does not say hello when she addresses him, instead he directs a vicious stare in her direction.
46. As another example, but not the sole example of discriminatory treatment, harassment and retaliation, on or about March 29, 2006, at a field day meeting presided over by defendant Esteves, with Plaintiff's colleagues in attendance, defendant Esteves ignored her whenever she directed a question and a suggestion to him.
47. As another example, but not the sole example of discriminatory treatment, harassment and retaliation, upon information and belief, from on or about March 2006 until May 2006, defendant Esteves increased his monitoring of Plaintiff by calling HRP each morning at or between 8:45 a.m. to 9:00 a.m. asking for the whereabouts of Plaintiff.

48. As another example, but not the sole example of discriminatory treatment, harassment and retaliation, upon information and belief, on or about April 6, 2006, defendants Esteves and Evdokas, as part of their conspiracy to terminate Plaintiff through the dismantling of the HRP, informed Plaintiff that acupuncture will be eliminated from HRP. Acupuncture was a very successful feature of HRP. They also eliminated the Friday free breakfast program and Saturday program for patients. Upon information and belief, both program features were fully funded by grants, thus there was no legitimate reason for their discontinuance.
49. On numerous occasions defendant Esteves asked Tina F. Goldman, a white female, formerly the Office Manager of the Department of Psychiatry, to help him to "nail" Plaintiff and on or about April 12, 2006 Defendant Esteves stated to Ms. Goldman that he needed to get rid of her "black ass" referring to Plaintiff.
50. Upon information and belief, in or about the years 2004 through 2006, defendant Esteves either terminated or forced numerous employees to resign either because they were female employees over the age of 40 or black male employees.
51. Upon information and belief, defendants have developed a pattern and practice of wrongfully terminating more experienced female employees over the age of 40 and replacing them with younger less experienced female or non-African American male employees.

52. Upon information and belief, defendants have developed a pattern and practice of wrongfully terminating more experienced black employees and replacing them with non black, less experienced employees.

53. As another example, but not the sole example of discriminatory treatment, harassment and retaliation, on or about April 6, 2006, upon information and belief, defendants Esteves and Evdokas, in continuance of their plan to justify a termination of Plaintiff, set an unrealistic timeframe to complete the closing of inactive case files.

54. Upon information and belief, closing inactive case files was an on-going problem with all grant based programs; yet, Plaintiff was given only one week to accomplish this task.

55. As another example, but not the sole example of discriminatory treatment and harassment in or about May 2006 defendants Esteves and Evdokas selectively disciplined Plaintiff for an alleged unauthorized use of the hospital's telephone.

56. Upon information and belief, at the time these alleged unauthorized phone calls were made there was no special code to track who made a call at a specific phone extension.

57. Upon information and belief, at the time these alleged unauthorized calls were made, Plaintiff's telephone was accessible to all HRP employees.
58. Upon information and belief, Plaintiff was accused of making some of the alleged unauthorized calls at times when she was out of the office.
59. Upon information and belief, some of the calls claimed to be made by Plaintiff were made while she was absent from work.
60. Upon information and belief, in the twelve years HRP has been in existence, there have not been any allegations against Plaintiff or any other HRP employees regarding unauthorized phone usage.
61. As another example, but not the sole example of harassment on or about May 8, 2006, Jason Nhambiu, Director of Labor Relations, informed Plaintiff that she must repay $5,942.74 in unauthorized phone calls for the period of February 9, 2006 to March 31, 2006. He then stated that the money would be deducted from Plaintiff's vacation pay. The money was never deducted.
62. On or about May 8, 2006, at this same meeting, which also included defendants Esteves and Evdokas, Plaintiff explained that she used her business phone extension only for HRP business.

63. On or about May 8, 2006, at this same meeting, Jason Nhambiu, ordered Plaintiff to account for nearly 300 phone calls and to provide this accounting within 24 hours.

64. As another example, but not the sole example of discriminatory treatment and harassment, on or about May 8, 2006, only fifteen minutes after Plaintiff was asked to account for these phone calls, defendant Evdokas came to Plaintiff's office and told Plaintiff that defendant Esteves wanted the accounting right away. He then harassed Plaintiff by following her around the office, including to the ladies room.

65. On or about May 12, 2006, Jason Nhambiu, informed Plaintiff that defendants Esteves and Evdokas were dissatisfied with her management of the program.

66. On or about May 12, 2006, shortly after the discussion with Jason Nhambiu, Defendants terminated Plaintiff.

67. Upon information and belief, defendants did not state the reason for Plaintiff's termination.

68. Upon information and belief, Defendants terminated Plaintiff and replaced her with Jennifer Marciano, a younger, less experienced, white Italian female. Upon information and belief, Ms. Marciano was paid more than Plaintiff. Upon information and belief, when Plaintiff was terminated her salary was approximately $77,000.00 per year.

69. Upon information and belief, in 2007 the HRP was disbanded as a separate program, a wellness program was created in its stead and Defendant Esteves promoted Jennifer Marciano to the position of co-director of psychiatry with Ibet Hernandez, a white Hispanic female within the psychiatric department.
70. As a result of her termination, Plaintiff suffered a loss of income and fringe benefits.
71. As a result of her termination, harassment, hostile work environment and discrimination, Plaintiff suffered emotional harm, and harm to her reputation.
72. By failing to follow its own personnel policies and procedures on evaluating and providing equal employment opportunity to its employees and by selectively disciplining Plaintiff, Defendants have violated the First and Fourteenth Amendments to the United States Constitution.
73. Defendants' acts of discrimination, and harassment were performed with malice and reckless indifference to Plaintiff's protected civil rights and her rights under the United States Constitution.
74. The foregoing actions of defendants' discrimination against Plaintiff was because of her age, race, color, and sex in violation of 29 U.S.C. § 621 et seq. and Title VII of the Civil Rights Act of 1964, as amended, 42 U.S.C. § 2000e-2, 42 U.S.C. § 1981 and 42 U.S.C. § 1983.

75. Defendants have discriminated against Plaintiff with respect to the terms, wages, conditions, privileges, advantages and benefits of employment. Specifically, defendants have developed a pattern and practice of terminating older (above the age of forty) more experienced female staff members and black people from their employment.
76. Defendants have discriminated against Plaintiff with respect to the terms, wages, conditions, privileges, advantages and benefits of employment. Specifically, defendants either directly engaged in intentional discrimination or acquiesced to the discriminatory and wrongful acts (based on race, color, sex, age and harassment) described in this complaint.
77. Defendants Esteves and others have discriminated against and harassed Plaintiff and created a hostile working environment by conspiring to terminate Plaintiff and to dismantle the HRP; directing racial slurs toward Plaintiff; selectively disciplining Plaintiff; demeaning Plaintiff and carrying on a continuous pattern of work place harassment culminating in her termination from employment.
78. Defendants' acts of discrimination and harassment were performed intentionally.
79. By subjecting Plaintiff to inferior compensation, terms and conditions of employment than it provided to similarly-situated younger Caucasian male employees, by subjecting Plaintiff to a lesser ability to earn money than it provided to similarly-situated younger Caucasian male employees, defendants violated section 296 of the New York State Executive Law, as made actionable against the defendants by and through section 297.

80. As a proximate result of the discriminatory and harassing acts of defendants, Plaintiff has suffered a loss of status, title, job experience, income, retirement benefits and other fringe benefits that she would have received absent defendants' discrimination.

INFORMATION ON CHARGES OF DISCRIMINATION

EEOC RULES AND REGULATIONS

Section 1601.15 of EEOC's regulations provides that persons or organizations charged with employment discrimination may submit a statement of position or evidence regarding the issues covered by this charge.

EEOC's recordkeeping and reporting requirements are found at Title 29, Code of Federal Regulations (29 CFR): 29 CFR Part 1602 (see particularly Sec. 1602.14 below) for Title VII and the ADA; 29 CFR Part 1620 for the EPA; and 29 CFR Part 1627, for the ADEA. These regulations generally require respondents to preserve payroll and personnel records relevant to a charge of discrimination until disposition of the charge or litigation relating to the charge. (For ADEA charges, this notice is the written requirement described in Part 1627, Sec. 1627.3(b)(3), .4(a)(2) or .5(c), for respondents to preserve records relevant to the charge – the records to be retained, and for how long, are as described in Sec. 1602.14, as set out below). Parts 1602, 1620 and 1627 also prescribe record retention periods – generally, three years for basic payroll records and one year for personnel records. Questions about retention periods and the types of records to be retained should be resolved by referring to the regulations.

Section 1602.14 Preservation of records made or kept. Where a charge ... has been filed, or an action brought by the Commission or the Attorney General, against an employer under Title VII or the ADA, the respondent ... shall preserve all personnel records relevant to the charge or the action until final disposition of the charge or action. The term personnel records relevant to the charge, for example, would include personnel or employment records relating to the aggrieved person and to all other aggrieved employees holding positions similar to that held or sought by the aggrieved person and application forms or test papers completed by an unsuccessful applicant and by all other candidates or the same position as that for which the aggrieved person applied and was rejected. The date of final disposition of the charge or the action means the date of expiration of the statutory period within which the aggrieved person may bring [a lawsuit] or, where an action is brought against an employer either by the aggrieved person, the Commission, or the Attorney General, the date on which such litigation is terminated.

NOTICE OF NON-RETALIATION REQUIREMENTS

Section 704(a) of Title VII, Section 4(d) of the ADEA, and Section 503(a) of the ADA provide that it is an unlawful employment practice for an employer to discriminate against present or former employees or job applicants, for an employment agency to discriminate against any individual, or for a union to discriminate against its members or applicants for membership, because they have opposed any practice made an unlawful employment practice by the statutes, or because they have made a charge, testified, assisted, or participated in any manner in an investigation, proceeding, or hearing under the statutes. The Equal Pay Act contains similar provisions. Additionally, Section 503(b) of the ADA prohibits coercion, intimidation, threats, or interference with anyone because they have exercised or enjoyed, or aided or encouraged others in their exercise or enjoyment, of rights under the Act.

Persons filing charges of discrimination are advised of these Non-Retaliation Requirements and are instructed to notify EEOC if any attempt at retaliation is made. Please note that the Civil Rights Act of 1991 provides substantial additional monetary provisions to remedy instances of retaliation or other discrimination, including, for example, to remedy the emotional harm caused by on-the-job harassment.

NOTICE REGARDING REPRESENTATION BY ATTORNEYS

Although you do not have to be represented by an attorney while we handle this charge, you have a right, and may wish to retain an attorney to represent you. If you do retain an attorney, please give us your attorney's name, address and phone number, and ask your attorney to write us confirming such representation.

CHARGE OF DISCRIMINATION

1. Pearlline Liburd a black women of African-Caribbean descent, age 59, brings this complaint against Bronx Lebanon Hospital Center, Raymond Esteves and Andreas Evdokas on the basis of age, race, gender and harassment for wrongful termination and the wrongful taking of claimant's vacation pay. Claimant was employed by Bronx Lebanon Hospital Center from October 24, 1994 until she was terminated May 12, 2006.
2. Claimant was replaced that same day by a younger white female named Jennifer Marciano. At the time of claimant's termination she was responsible for the management of the Harm Reduction Program hereinafter, ("HRP"), a program that claimant developed to assist in alleviating the hardships of HIV-infected patients afflicted with substance abuse problems. Claimant has always performed her job duties in a conscientious and satisfactory manner. Claimant has never received a below average performance rating.
3. At the time of claimant's termination her supervisor was Andreas Evdokas a male/white. His title was and still is Administrative Director. Claimant's previous supervisor was Raymond Esteves a male/white of Hispanic origin. His title was and still is Assistant Vice President of Clinical Services.
4. In February 2005, claimant scheduled a meeting with Raymond Esteves the purpose of the meeting was to inform him that claimant had unused money on the HRP budget and that claimant needed to spend it. This money was part of the enhancement HRP received from the funding agency "MHRA-Ryan White" for always performing at ninety (90%) percent or higher of the projected patient services. Claimant proposed overtime for Saturdays, however, Raymond Esteves wanted twelve (12) computers. Claimant objected by asking him how could claimant justify twelve computers with a staff of only five persons excluding claimant. Claimant told him that she would rather spend the money on patient services, as required in the contract with MHRA-Ryan White. The computers were ordered anyway by Esteves and billed to HRP. Esteves instructed claimant to come up with a creative justification for the computers for the funding agency. Claimant was directed by Esteves to inform the funding agency that HRP wanted to establish a computer lab. Here Esteves directed claimant to fabricate a lie. Claimant did so because she was ordered by her supervisor Estevez to do so. The HRP office received four (4) of the desk top computers. Esteves refused to tell claimant the serial numbers of the other eight computers. Although, Esteves ordered the computers for the HRP offices claimant has never seen the other eight (8) computers. In reality, HRP was not and has not (to the date of this Charge) developed a computer lab. On October 18, 2005, claimant complained about Esteve's behavior to Dr. Levine the Chair in the Psychiatry Department.

5. On or about September 14, 2005, claimant overheard Raymond Esteves telling Andreas Evdokas, "I want her ass out of here. I want her ass out of here. I want to get rid of her." When it was announced by Andreas Evdoka's secretary that claimant was standing outside of his office door for a conference, claimant again heard Esteves say to Evdokas, "I want her ass out of here." As Esteves walked past claimant he stated "black ass." After this incident the claimant wrote a memo dated October 18, 2005 to the Chairman of the Psychiatry Department and requested a transfer saying that "I clearly heard Mr. Esteves giving Dr. Evdokas directives of how to deal with me that was not positive." Respondents did not answer claimant's request for a transfer, instead, respondents terminated her.
6. During monthly meetings throughout 2005 Raymond Esteves used harsh, sharp tones, when addressing claimant. Raymond Esteves was abrupt, rude and displayed no tolerance toward claimant when addressing her in monthly meetings before 15-20 other department heads in attendance. Beginning in June 2005 until her termination Raymond Esteves called the HRP Office daily in the morning to harass claimant. As of October 2005 through the date of her termination Raymond Esteves gave claimant extra reporting duties such as: quality improvement reports, reports of staff meetings and hiring reports.
7. Upon information and belief, Esteves told another employee in April 2006 that he wanted to get rid of claimant. When ask why, Esteves replied in sum and substance "I have a problem with black people and I don't like her. I want her black ass out of here."
8. On or about May 8, 2006, respondents including Jason Nanbugi (Human Resources Department) Andreas Evdokas, Raymond Esteves and others conspired to wrongfully accuse plaintiff of running up a large telephone bill in the HRP from March 1, 2006 to March 31, 2006 of approximately five thousand ($5000.00) dollars. The wrong decision was made to deduct approximately five thousand ($5000.00) dollars from claimant's vacation pay. Although wrong, to date respondents have not paid claimant for her wrongfully taken vacation pay. Claimant was not given notice or an opportunity to be heard before she was reprimanded and her pay taken. Upon information and belief, respondents have policies and procedures in place to handle work place disagreements. Over the course of claimant's employment with respondents she has never been accused or found to have participated in any impropriety.
9. Upon information and belief, Respondents through Raymond Esteves have developed a pattern and practice of terminating older (above the age of 40) more experienced female staff members from their employment. Upon information and belief, the witnesses in payroll have knowledge that such a course of conduct has taken place since at least 2004.

Re: Pearline Liburd v. Bronx Lebanon Hospital Center
EEOC Charge No. : 520-2007- 00239
Our File Number : 08981.00035

Dear Mr. Douglass:

Respondent, Bronx Lebanon Hospital Center (hereinafter "the Hospital"), respectfully submits this position statement in response to the captioned Charge. There is absolutely no meritorious basis for Claimant's age, race, and gender claims. Claimant was terminated for her clear misconduct; she incurred over $3,000.00 in long distance charges in direct violation of the Hospital's telephone policy. Claimant's Charge is untimely and without merit, and the Hospital respectfully requests that a finding of "no probable cause" be issued and this Charge be dismissed in its entirety.

POSITION STATEMENT

Bronx Lebanon Hospital Center is a 614¹ bed voluntary, not-for-profit Hospital serving the largely minority communities of the central and southern portions of the Bronx. The Hospital prides itself on its diversity and is committed to fostering and providing equal opportunity to all its employees and maintaining a professional work environment wherein discrimination is not tolerated. Accordingly, the Hospital maintains well established and long standing anti-discrimination and prevention policies published and distributed to all its employees. (Annexed hereto as Exhibit "A" are copies of the Hospital's EEO and Anti-Discrimination and Discrimination Complaint Policies, and annexed as Exhibit "B", Claimant's signed acknowledgement of receipt of same).

It is respectfully submitted that the demographics of the Hospital's employee population negate any inference of discrimination. The Hospital employs thousands of physicians, nurses, support staff and clerical staff whose races, genders and ages reflect both the Hospital's commitment to its EEO policies and the diversity of the population which it serves, i.e., approximately 88.7% of the Hospital's employee population is non-white, approximately 64.6% are female, and approximately 60.3% are within the protected age group. The Hospital's CEO is Hispanic, its Chief Medical Officer is black, and both are well over the age of forty. The Clinical Advisor of the program where Claimant was employed, Dr. Osei-Tutu, is black and over forty; Claimant's former supervisors, Raymond Esteves and Andreas Evdokas, are both over 40; and, Jason Nhambiu, the Director of Labor Relations who made the decision to terminate Claimant, is black.

Not only do the Hospital's well-established employment policies and diverse employee population negate any inference of discrimination, but Claimant's employment history reflects a work environment free of any age, race, or gender discrimination. Claimant began her employment as Administrative Director of the Hospital's Harm Reduction Program² ("HRP") on October 24, 1994. The Hospital not only hired but re-hired³ Claimant knowing she was black and over forty. Additionally, Claimant was given numerous salary increases during her tenure, and she was promoted to the position of Project Administrator/Director of the HRP effective February 3, 1997. (Annexed hereto as Exhibit "C" are Claimant's relevant employment records). Following her termination, Claimant's duties were undertaken by Ms. Marciano, a white female, and by Mr. Asidu, a black male.

Claimant's allegation that her May 12, 2006 termination was discriminatory is directly undermined by her admission that Mr. Esteves, one of her supervisors at the time she was fired, consistently gave her good to excellent performance evaluations, and by the fact that he consistently obtained raises on her behalf. Claimant's allegation are further undermined by the fact that prior to her termination, Claimant never filed a discrimination complaint about any of the individuals overseeing her employment at the time of her discharge, i.e. about either of her two supervisors (Mr. Evdokas and Mr. Esteves) or Mr. Nhambiu, who made the decision to terminate her employment. Contrary to Claimant's post-discharge allegations, the only pre-termination complaint she filed regarding any of these individuals had nothing whatsoever to do with discrimination; on October 18, 2005, Claimant wrote a memo complaining about Mr. Esteves' September 2005 denial of her request to go to Mexico on "business" and about her disagreement with him regarding the best use of grant funds, i.e. Mr. Esteves chose to purchase computers for departmental employees and grant participants. (Copy of Memo annexed hereto as Exhibit "D"). Claimant has severely undermined her credibility by so dramatically altering her version of the September 2005 incident in her present Charge.

² The Harm Reduction Program is a federal grant funded program developed to provide counseling and education on harm reduction, recovery readiness and HIV treatment options. The program has to be renewed annually and is currently under the auspice of the Hospital's Psychiatry Department.

Claimant was terminated for one reason and one reason only. Claimant and three other employees were terminated after the Hospital investigated and confirmed that these four employees had violated Hospital policy and used Hospital phones for long distance personal telephone calls. Claimant's unauthorized use of the Hospital's telephone exceeded $3,000.00 and was only discovered after the Hospital installed a new telephone system which tracked and accounted for telephone calls. The tracking system revealed that the Claimant and three other employees had egregiously taken advantage of the Hospital's phone system, and that nearly $6,000.00 in calls were placed from Claimant's extension over a two month time period; of the nearly $6,000.00 total cost of the calls placed, more than $3,000.00 were long distance calls placed from Claimant's telephone extension mostly to Nevis and St. Kitts, her home country.⁴ (Annexed hereto as Exhibit "E" is the Hospital's telephone policy which mandates that telephone usage is limited to the Hospital's business use and makes violation of this policy a terminable offence and as Exhibit "F", copies of the telephone logs).

Claimant's attempt to claim that her termination was discriminatory lacks any factual or legal basis. She was not disciplined more severely than any younger, male employees. Following its investigation, the Hospital terminated all four employees, two of whom were in their thirties, and two of whom were male. No other employee was treated differently than Claimant, and Hospital policy and practice is clear that any employee who violates the Hospital's telephone usage policy will be similarly disciplined. Indeed, the Hospital viewed the Claimant's violation the most egregious of all not only because of the sheer volume and cost of her long distance calls, but her position of trust as Director of a grant funded program and her abuse was a misappropriation of HRP grant funds.

Post-discharge, Claimant has, for the first time, proffered baseless allegations⁵ in an attempt to avoid the effects of her wrongdoing, i.e., Claimant has offered the following baseless allegations: (1) She was given "extra" reporting duties; (2) Mr. Esteves made racially derogatory comments to and about her on two occasions, October 2005 and April 2006; and, (3) the Hospital had a pattern of discriminating against older, female employees. Her claim regarding "extra" reporting duties is baffling since the duties described are and have always been part of Claimant's job. Likewise, her hearsay claim of two isolated, allegedly racially derogatory comments and a pattern and practice of discrimination are utterly unsupported by any admissible, probative evidence and are insufficient to establish a discrimination claim. The Hospital's extraordinary race, gender, and age demographics, and her supervisors' unfettered support of her through raises and promotions utterly refute these unfounded allegations.

⁴ Upon realizing that the Hospital had discovered her telephone calls and she was facing termination, Claimant came up with a series of excuses including (1) that the calls were made as part of a worldwide promotional outreach effort, and, (2) that some calls were made on behalf of four identified patients. Claimant was unable to explain why: (1) Nevis and St. Kitts were the only parts of the world she "reached out" to; (2) the charts of the patients she identified contained none of the requisite activity logs indicating such calls had been placed on the patients' behalf; and, (3) three of the patients' files were inactive during the time period when the calls were made and one or two of the patients were not even HIV positive. Realizing these excuses were not true or credible, Claimant offered to reimburse the Hospital the cost of the calls in lieu of termination.

DISCUSSION

1. Claimant's Charge Is Untimely

Claimant's October 16, 2006 EEOC filing date renders any claims premised on acts which occurred prior to December 21, 2005 untimely under Title VII, i.e., all of Claimant's allegations regarding alleged harassment and racially derogatory comments in 2005 are time-barred. 42 U.S.C. § 2000e-5(e) (1) (2000); Zerilli-Edelglass v. N.Y. City Transit Auth., 333 F.3d 74 (2d Cir. 2003) (Title VII claims must be filed with the appropriate administrative agency within 300 days). Claimant concedes that she was aware of alleged disparate treatment as early as February 2005 yet she failed to file her Charge until over twenty months later. Her claims are therefore time barred. Riedinger v. D'Amicantino, et al., 974 F. Supp. 322 (SDNY 1997).

Claimant attempts to avoid the untimeliness of her claims with her assertion that the discrimination is "continuing" and that the Hospital had a pattern and practice of terminating older female employees. The Hospital's employee statistics show that over 60% of its employee population is within the protected age group and over 64% are female. Conclusory claims such as these are legally insufficient to avoid the statutes of limitations. Bembry v. Darrow, 97 F. Supp. 2d 281, 288 (N.D.N.Y. 2000); Ghosh v. New York Univ. Med. Ctr., 576 F. Supp. 86, 93 n.24 (S.D.N.Y. 1983) (simply "cit[ing] a number of instances in which [plaintiff] was allegedly discriminatorily treated" will not suffice to salvage untimely claims); Boxill v. Brooklyn College, 115 Fed. Appx. 516, 517 (2d Cir. 2004) (affirming summary judgment where there was no evidence of a specific discriminatory policy or program); Samuel v. Merrill Lynch Pierce Fenner & Smith, 771 F. Supp. 47, 49 (S.D.N.Y. 1991) (finding no policy of discrimination where plaintiff merely alleged specific unrelated instances of discrimination).

2. Claimant's Conclusory Allegations Are Insufficient To Prove A Discrimination Claim As A Matter Of Law

Claimant has failed to identify any qualifying discriminatory act under Title VII. Claimant's claims are deficient because she has not identified how she was discriminated against because of her age, race, or gender, and her vague, conclusory, inaccurate, and inconsistent allegations are insufficient to establish a disparate treatment claim. See Johnson v. Lord & Taylor, 25 A.D.3d 435; 807 N.Y.S.2d 367 (1st Dep't 2006) (conclusory allegations of disparate treatment are insufficient to state a claim); Chan v. NYU Downtown Hospital, 2005 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 40243 (S.D.N.Y. Feb. 14, 2006) (same); Lloyd v. WABC-TV, 879 F. Supp. 394 (S.D.N.Y. 1995) (finding no inference of discrimination where, inter alia, plaintiff had received good performance evaluations); Carey v. Reed Elsevier, Inc., 1998 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 6834, at 14 (S.D.N.Y. 1998) (isolated, hearsay comments are insufficient to prove a discrimination).

Claimant's failure to identify any similarly situated younger and non-black male employees who were treated differently than her is fatal to her claim. Washington County v. N.Y. State Div. of Human Rights, 7 A.D. 3d 895, 896 (3d Dept. 2004) (no inference of discrimination arises where plaintiff could not demonstrate that similarly situated male employees benefited from terms and conditions of employment which were denied her); Arendt v. GE, 305 A.D. 2d 762 (3d Dept. 2003) (proof offered showed plaintiff was treated no differently in comparison to similarly situated peers and this negated inference of age discrimination).

3. The Hospital's Legitimate Basis For Its Employment Decision And Its Employee Demographics Negate Any Inference Of Discrimination

Claimant's documented violation of the Hospital's telephone policy establishes that the Hospital had a legitimate, nondiscriminatory business reason to terminate her employment. The overwhelming evidentiary record in this regard negates any inference of discrimination. See Scaria v. Rubin, 117 F.3d 652 (2d Cir. 1997) (court does not sit as super-personnel department that reexamines business decisions). Further, the Hospital's employee statistics and the timing of Claimant's complaint of discrimination negate any inference of discrimination. Noyer v. Viacom, Inc., 1998 WL 774606, *6 (S.D.N.Y. 1998), citing Morrissey v. Symbol Technologies, Inc., 910 F. Supp. 117, 121 (E.D.N.Y. 1996) ("[A]n overall employee composition and record of non-discrimination strongly negates any claim of a climate of discrimination"); Nicholls v. Brookdale Univ. Hosp. & Med. Ctr., 2005 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 12582 (E.D.N.Y. 2005) (statistical evidence precluded finding of discrimination); Bryant v. Begin Manage Program, 281 F. Supp. 2d 561, 573 (E.D.N.Y. 2003) (no inference of discrimination where Claimant's first complaint regarding the alleged discrimination was not until after she discovered she was being terminated); Luxenberg v. Guardian Life Ins. Co., 2004 U.S. Dist. LEXIS 3121 *17-18 (S.D.N.Y. Mar. 2, 2004) (no inference of discrimination where the adverse employment action began before Claimant filed a complaint of discrimination, even where Claimant was subsequently terminated).

CONCLUSION

In summary, Claimant's Charge is premised on nothing more than her dissatisfaction with being appropriately disciplined for her egregious unauthorized use of the Hospital's telephone. This is not a claim about discrimination; the Hospital's statistics, along with its uniform implementation of its policies and Claimant's employment history, preclude such a finding. The statistical evidence is clear; the Hospital proudly maintains a rich and diverse employee population. Accordingly, for the foregoing reasons, the Hospital respectfully requests that the Commission dismiss this Charge in its entirety.

Re: Salary Adjustment

This comes to inform you that you have been approved by Human Resources to receive a salary increase. Your annual salary will change from $58,000 to $62,800. This adjustment is effective retroactive to the date of your current grant contract, i.e. 3/1/02.

Abdur Khan of Grant Accounting informs me that your current budget does not have this amount budgeted in your salary line. Nevertheless, as soon as the current approved contract is received from MHRA, Mr. Khan has agreed to work with you on a budget modification that will make these funds available retroactive to the beginning of the contract year.

Please be aware that any future salary issues may be brought to the attention of Raymond Esteves, Administrative Director, Department of Psychiatry, who will be taking over administration of the Harm Reduction Program effective 5/1/02. Questions regarding this current salary increase may be directed to Jasen Nhambiu, Labor Relations, Human Resources Department.

Re: Mr Ray Esteves

On September 13, 2005, I was summoned to Mr. Esteves' office, Dr. Evdokas was present. Mr. Esteves verbally abused me, re: a travel form I had sent him to sign, to enable me to attend a conference. Mr. Esteves was extremely abusive, condescending and insulting. He told me he would not sign the form, since I did not request his permission to go to the conference. Mr. Esteves stated at the meeting that he wanted information about the conference and the organization. I provided it to Dr. Evdokas. He refuses to sign as of this date. The conference will start on October 26th.

The conference which is sponsored in part by Stony Brook University, is on Counseling & Treating People of Colour, which is the Black and Hispanic population that the Harm-Reduction Program and Bronx-Lebanon Hospital Center serves.

On September 14, 2005, I returned to the 4th floor in Psychiatry to return the legibility signed sheet Dr. Evdokas had given me on the 13th. As I waited my turn to give the forms to Elizabeth, I clearly heard Mr. Esteves giving Dr. Evdokas directives of how to deal with me that was not positive. Mr. Esteves then left Dr. Evdokas' office and proceeded to his. He passed by me and refused to acknowledge me or say hello.

On September 20, 2005, Mr. Esteves called the Program about 9:10 a.m. he asked for me, but I was not there. He demanded of the worker to know where I was, and the worker reported to me that Mr. Esteves terrorized him.

and then asked him---Do you know who I am? In such an authoritative and condescending tone, that the worker contacted his union delegate.

On September 20, 2005, I called Mr. Esteves when I arrived. He demanded to know where I was, as he called the office and there was no answer. I informed him that I had (2) two vacancies and that he is aware of it. He hired Ms. Diaz and he knew one worker went to "Blended Case Management". One worker is on the Concourse on Tuesdays, one was doing Home Visits. The person who answered the phone was assisting a patient when he, Ray, was calling; therefore he was unable to answer the phone. As for me, I was out purchasing nutritional supplies for the Women's Group. Mr. Esteves advised me to get Voice Mail and I have done so.

Since these incidents, it is my understanding that Mr. Esteves is on a witch-hunt to get rid of me. He has actively sought co-workers out and other individuals to solicit information about me "his words" and that he does not like me.

In February 2005, I scheduled a meeting with Mr. Esteves, and Grant Accounting Vincent D'Costa. The purpose of the meeting was to inform Mr. Esteves that I had unused money on the budget and that I needed to spend it. This money was part of the Enhancement the Program received from the Funding Agency, for always performing at 90% or higher. I proposed overtime for Saturdays, however, Mr. Esteves wanted (12) twelve computers. I objected by asking him how could I justify (12) twelve computers with a staff of (5) five. I told him I would rather spend the money on patient services as required in the contract with MIRA-Ryan White. The computers were ordered by Mr. Esteves and billed to the Harm-Reduction Program. Mr. Esteves instructed me to come up with a creative justification for the computers for the Funding Agency. I was adamantly directed by Mr. Esteves to inform the Funding Agency that the Harm-Reduction Program wants to establish a computer lab. I have asked Mr. Esteves repeatedly for the serial numbers for the computers, as the Grant requires that they be reported in the year-end equipment log. To date I have not received the serial numbers for the additional (8) eight computers that he has in his possession. The Harm-Reduction Program received (4) four computers.

On September 13, 2005, when I met with Mr. Esteves and Dr. Evdokas, Mr. Esteves stated that he is planning to transfer me to Larry Watts Dept. of Addictive Services.

I have requested to know the status of that transfer from Dr. Evdokas when I met with him on October 12, 2005. This is my twelfth year of running this Program, my evaluation from Mr. Esteves has always been positive, however I cannot expect this to continue under the present stated circumstances. The established Policy from the Grants department states that if the Seminar is a budgeted item and is approved and/or required by the Funding Agency then my travel request is approved by the Grant Department.

I have always done an outstanding job of managing the Program, with honesty, integrity and dedication. I would like an environment where I can continue to provide quality services in keeping with the Mission Statement of Bronx Lebanon Hospital Center.

I am asking for your intervention. I am willing to use my vacation to attend the conference; I have submitted a vacation request to Dr. Evdokas.

HUMAN RESOURCES

Manual Code: HR - 357- C Page No: 1 of 3 Function: Human Resources

TITLE: POLICY FOR USE OF COMPUTER AND OTHER ELECTRONIC EQUIPMENT

ISSUED BY: DIVISION OF HUMAN RESOURCES

EFFECTIVE DATE: 3/2/01	LAST REVIEW DATE: 3/06/06
-------------------------------	----------------------------------

DISTRIBUTION: All Authorized Manual Holders

GENERAL POLICY:

Computer and other electronic equipment may only be used for Bronx Lebanon Hospital Center business or for purposes authorized by Administration. All electronic communications created, stored or communicated using Bronx Lebanon Hospital Center equipment are the property of the Hospital. Bronx Lebanon may access documents or communications stored on its property or in its systems (with or without advance notice) whenever warranted by business need or legal requirements and reserves the right to monitor its systems for accounting purposes, to ensure proper use, and to detect security violations. Bronx Lebanon reserves the right to monitor use of Hospital equipment.

E-MAIL POLICY:

Employees are hereby advised that no e-mail message sent or received on the Hospital's e-mail system is "private", even if the employee labels the message as such and/or the employee uses a password or other security measure regarding the message. In addition, deletion of e-mail messages or files will not truly eliminate the messages from the system because they are stored on a central back-up system in the normal course of data management. However, users should routinely delete outdated or otherwise unnecessary e-mails and computer files in order to keep the system running smoothly and minimize maintenance costs.

Because personal messages can be accessed by the Hospital without prior notice, employees should not use e-mail to transmit any message that they would not want a third party to read. For example, employees should not use Hospital e-mail to discuss personal information about themselves or others, to forward messages under circumstances likely to embarrass the sender or for emotional responses to business correspondence or work situations.

Personal use of Bronx Lebanon computing equipment requires the approval of administration and will only be approved if such use is clearly insignificant, does not interfere with Hospital interests and does not involve incremental costs. Downloading games or non-business programs onto Hospital systems is specifically prohibited.

In addition, personal use activities may never include: solicitation of hospital associates; providing information about, or lists of, Hospital associates or patients to others; commercial, political or religious solicitations; exchange of threatening, hostile, inappropriate or offensive communications; sending or replying to "chain letters". Anyone who receives an e-mail message that violates this policy should immediately contact the Assistant Vice President of Human Resources. Abuse of the e-mail or Internet systems, through excessive personal use or use in violation of law or our policies, will result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination from employment.

INTERNET POLICY:

Certain employees are provided with access to the Internet to assist them in performing their jobs. Use of the Internet is governed by this policy (and by the e-mail policy).

Employees may not illegally copy from the Internet material protected under copyright law or make that material available to others for copying. Employees are responsible for complying with copyright laws and with the licenses that may apply to software and other material that they wish to download or copy. Employees may not agree to a license or download any material for which a registration fee is charged without the express prior written permission of the Director of Management Information Systems.

Disclaimer of liability for Internet use. The Hospital is not responsible for material that employees view or download from the Internet. The Internet is a worldwide computer network that contains millions of pages of information. Users are cautioned that these pages may contain offensive material that is inappropriate for the workplace. Searches may inadvertently lead to sites with offensive and inappropriate content. In addition, having an e-mail address on the Internet can result in receipt of unsolicited e-mail containing offensive and inappropriate content.

Responsible Use of Computer Resources. Employees are not to waste computer resources and valuable employee time. Specifically, employees may not spend work time on the Internet playing computer games, participating in online chat groups or online auction sites such as e-Bay, viewing sites that are not related to work or printing multiple copies of documents. Please note that audio, video, and picture files require significant storage space; therefore, you may not download these or other files onto your computer hard drive at work unless they are business-related.

Monitoring Computer Usage. The Hospital has the right (but not the duty) to monitor all aspects of its computer system, including monitoring Internet sites, chat groups and news groups visited by employees, reviewing material downloaded or uploaded by Internet users, and reviewing e-mail sent and received by users.

Blocking Inappropriate Content. The Hospital may, in its sole discretion, use software to identify and block inappropriate sites from employee access on our computers.

Prohibited Activities. Employees may not download from the Internet, or display on or store in the Hospital's computers, any material that violates our policy on Sexual and Other Unlawful Harassment, nor may employees use our Internet connection to download games or other entertainment software or play games over the Internet.

Virus Detection. Files obtained from sources outside of the Hospital, including diskettes, files downloaded from the Internet, files attached to e-mail, and files provided by third parties such as vendors may contain computer viruses that may damage our computer network. Employees should never download files from the Internet, open e-mail attachments from unknown sources or use disks from non-Hospital sources without first scanning the material with approved virus checking software. If you suspect that a virus has been introduced to our computer network, you must contact the Bronx-Lebanon Hospital help desk at (718) 920-4554 and report the problem.

PASSWORD SECURITY:

Anyone who has a password for any electronics must maintain the integrity of that password. A password is for exclusive use by the person to whom it is issued. It is an electronic signature; thus, a password connects computer use to the person it identifies. Each employee is responsible for computer use and information accessed with his/her password. A password must not be shared, and must be guarded to prevent inadvertent disclosure to and use by other person.

All systems passwords and encryption keys must be available to management, and no employee may use passwords that are unknown to the employee's supervisor, nor may employees install encryption programs without turning over the encryption key to the employee's supervisor.

STANDARDS OF CONDUCT:

When using electronic mail:

- Do not send electronic mail so that it appears to come from someone else.
- Do not send unsolicited advertising via electronic mail.
- Do not send or store any material that would be considered threatening, inappropriate, offensive or disrespectful to others.

When using the Internet:

- Use only services you have authorization to access. Do not attempt to get into open Internet system or server ports without prior authorization.
- Always identify yourself when accessing the Internet.
- Do not access or place any material on the Internet that would be considered inappropriate, offensive or disrespectful to others.
- Do not download any software unless approved by MIS.

Other electronic equipment, such as Voice Mail, telephones, telefax, photocopy equipment, and recording devices are also limited to business use and subject to the Standards of Conduct stated above. No employee may use any of the equipment referred to throughout in a manner that could be construed by others as harassment or offensive based on race, creed, color, national origin, sex, age, disability, marital status, sexual orientation or citizenship status.

Compliance with this policy is a condition of employment. Violation of this policy may result in disciplinary action, up to and including termination from employment.

The statement of Ms. Parkline Lib. 1, on May 8, 2006. Ms. Libard is the project coordinator for Harm Reduction Program ✓

I have 4 patients who are from St. Kitts, Nevis and I have to call the hospital in Newcastle and the Ministry of Health. I am calling patients and the doctors and sometimes I can be on the phone for a long time without being connected to the patients.

Dr. Hall gave me the impression that I could call.

The patient come to me for the I.D. clinic, we don't have a primary physician that ~~see~~ sees the patient. I document all calls in our program charts and logs.

Subject: Harm reduction

Hi. Just to let you know, I reviewed the URS data for Harm Reduction for the months of Feb'06 to 4'06. The 3 patients that were identified as having international calls placed showed no activity for the period in question. URS data revealed that all 3 clients had no activity in the Harm Reduction Program for said time. As a reminder, as an MHRA grant all activities provided under a grant must be entered in URS and reported to the funding source monthly. Therefore, these clients are actually inactive.

Mr. Jan Alex Dash
946 Fulton Street
Brooklyn, NY 11238

Dear Mr. Dash:

I am in receipt of your letter dated September 7, 2006. Please note that Ms. Liburd's paychecks have never been withheld. She simply did not make any efforts to pick them up nor give us instructions as to how to remit the monies to her. As you have been designated to represent her in this matter, I am releasing her paychecks to you.

There is a pending matter of mobile phone in Ms. Liburd's possession that is property of Bronx Lebanon Hospital Center. The telephone must be returned to the hospital immediately or a check must be issued to Bronx Lebanon Hospital in the amount of one hundred dollars ($100.00). In addition, the hospital is seeking payment for the unauthorized, non work-related phone calls made to St. Kitts/Nevis in the amount of five thousand, nine hundred and forty-two dollars ($5,942.00). It should be noted that one of the calls was made to your affiliate office of Liburd and Dash in Nevis from her office phone.

Please forward the telephone and the payment to "Jasen Nhambiu, Director, Labor Relations, 1276 Fulton Avenue, Bronx, NY 10456." Your assistance and cooperation in reaching an amicable resolution to this matter are greatly appreciated. Thank you for your attention to this matter.

Sincerely,

Jasen Nhambiu

EEOC Charge No.

EEOC Representative

Telephone No.

520-2007-00239Enforcement Unit*(212) 336-3620

THE EEOC IS CLOSING ITS FILE ON THIS CHARGE FOR THE FOLLOWING REASON:

The facts alleged in the charge fail to state a claim under any of the statutes enforced by the EEOC.

Your allegations did not involve a disability as defined by the Americans with Disabilities Act.

The Respondent employs less than the required number of employees or is not otherwise covered by the statute(s).

Your charge was not timely filed with EEOC; in other words, you waited too long after the date(s) of the alleged discrimination to file your charge.

Having been given 30 days in which to respond, you failed to provide information, failed to appear or be available for interviews/conferences, or otherwise failed to cooperate to the extent that it was not possible to resolve your charge.

While reasonable efforts were made to locate you, we were not able to do so.

You were given 30 days to accept a reasonable settlement offer that affords full relief for the harm you alleged.

The EEOC issues the following determination: Based upon its investigation, the EEOC is unable to conclude that the information obtained establishes violations of the statutes. This does not certify that the respondent is in compliance with the statutes. No finding is made as to any other issues that might be construed as having been raised by this charge.

The EEOC has adopted the findings of the state or local fair employment practices agency that investigated this charge.

- NOTICE OF SUIT RIGHTS -

(See the additional information attached to this form.)

Title VII, the Americans with Disabilities Act, and/or the Age Discrimination in Employment Act: This will be the only notice of dismissal and of your right to sue that we will send you. You may file a lawsuit against the respondent(s) under federal law based on this charge in federal or state court. Your lawsuit must be filed WITHIN 90 DAYS of your receipt of this Notice; or your right to sue based on this charge will be lost. (The time limit for filing suit based on a state claim may be different.)

Equal Pay Act (EPA): EPA suits must be filed in federal or state court within 2 years (3 years for willful violations) of the alleged EPA underpayment. This means that backpay due for any violations that occurred more than 2 years (3 years) before you file suit may not be collectible.
